

HAVE YOU EVER WANTED TO MAKE A MOVIE? DO YOU HAVE A STORY TO TELL ABOUT BREAST CANCER?

Rethink Breast Cancer's Breast Fest Film Festival &
National Film Board of Canada Mediatheque present

Digital Footprints – A filmmaking workshop

Saturday May 14, 2011

Join us for a fun interactive workshop to learn how to use digital video, photography and sound clips to tell a story and get hands-on experience with the latest in digital storytelling technology. Working in small groups you'll create a short digital film and end the day with a big screen projection of your movie!

This workshop is open to anyone who has been affected by breast cancer, or has a story to share about it, including: women and men living with or recovering from breast cancer; friends and family of those who have experienced the disease; health care professionals and students; concerned members the community.

Digital Footprints is designed to teach you some tips and tools of the filmmaking trade so that you can go on to film a breast cancer story – perhaps just in time for submission to this year's Breast Fest Film Festival!

This workshop is free of charge. Space is limited. Registration is required.
